I also like introducing my students to bots as one way to do creative things in a networked digital context.. Its possible to use Apps for multiple bots or accounts in fact, this is how they're designed but I like to make one for each bot account so that if one gets suspended the others aren't necessarily in jeopardy at the same time.. Using it doesn't guarantee that you won't violate Twitter's terms of service and get banned.. This will authorize your app to interface with your account I know, it seems redundant.. Twitter Bot Maker Free To Do There are many other ways to make a Twitter Bot, but I like this approach for its clarity and hopefully its accessibility for non-programmers to start understanding how to think about language through programming.
